Before we get started with our observations, I would like to thank Jane for stepping in under such short notice.

No problem, Happy to contribute

Now, what exactly am I expected to do?

Jane, all that we ask is for you to look real pretty. Our green companion here will take care of the rest. Hell, you're already doing a fine job. He's now sized you up and ready for dinner.

WAIT-WHAT !?!?

Marvellous! Take notice of Jane's proportions in relation to the Zarvos! Although the prey is slightly larger, our Zarvos is capable of orienting and manipulating itself to engulf the prey. Similar to how a snake might ingest it's meal. Wow! Going to be a tight fit!

Rmmfff!!

The light is green for go!!

Ooummfff!!

Well, would you look it that! He's having no part of that skirt. This may be an attempt at creating more space within, but I'd say those excessive saliva glands are a dead giveaway of our friend simply enjoying Janes's "assets."

Almost there, pal. Just a couple of feet and she's all yours

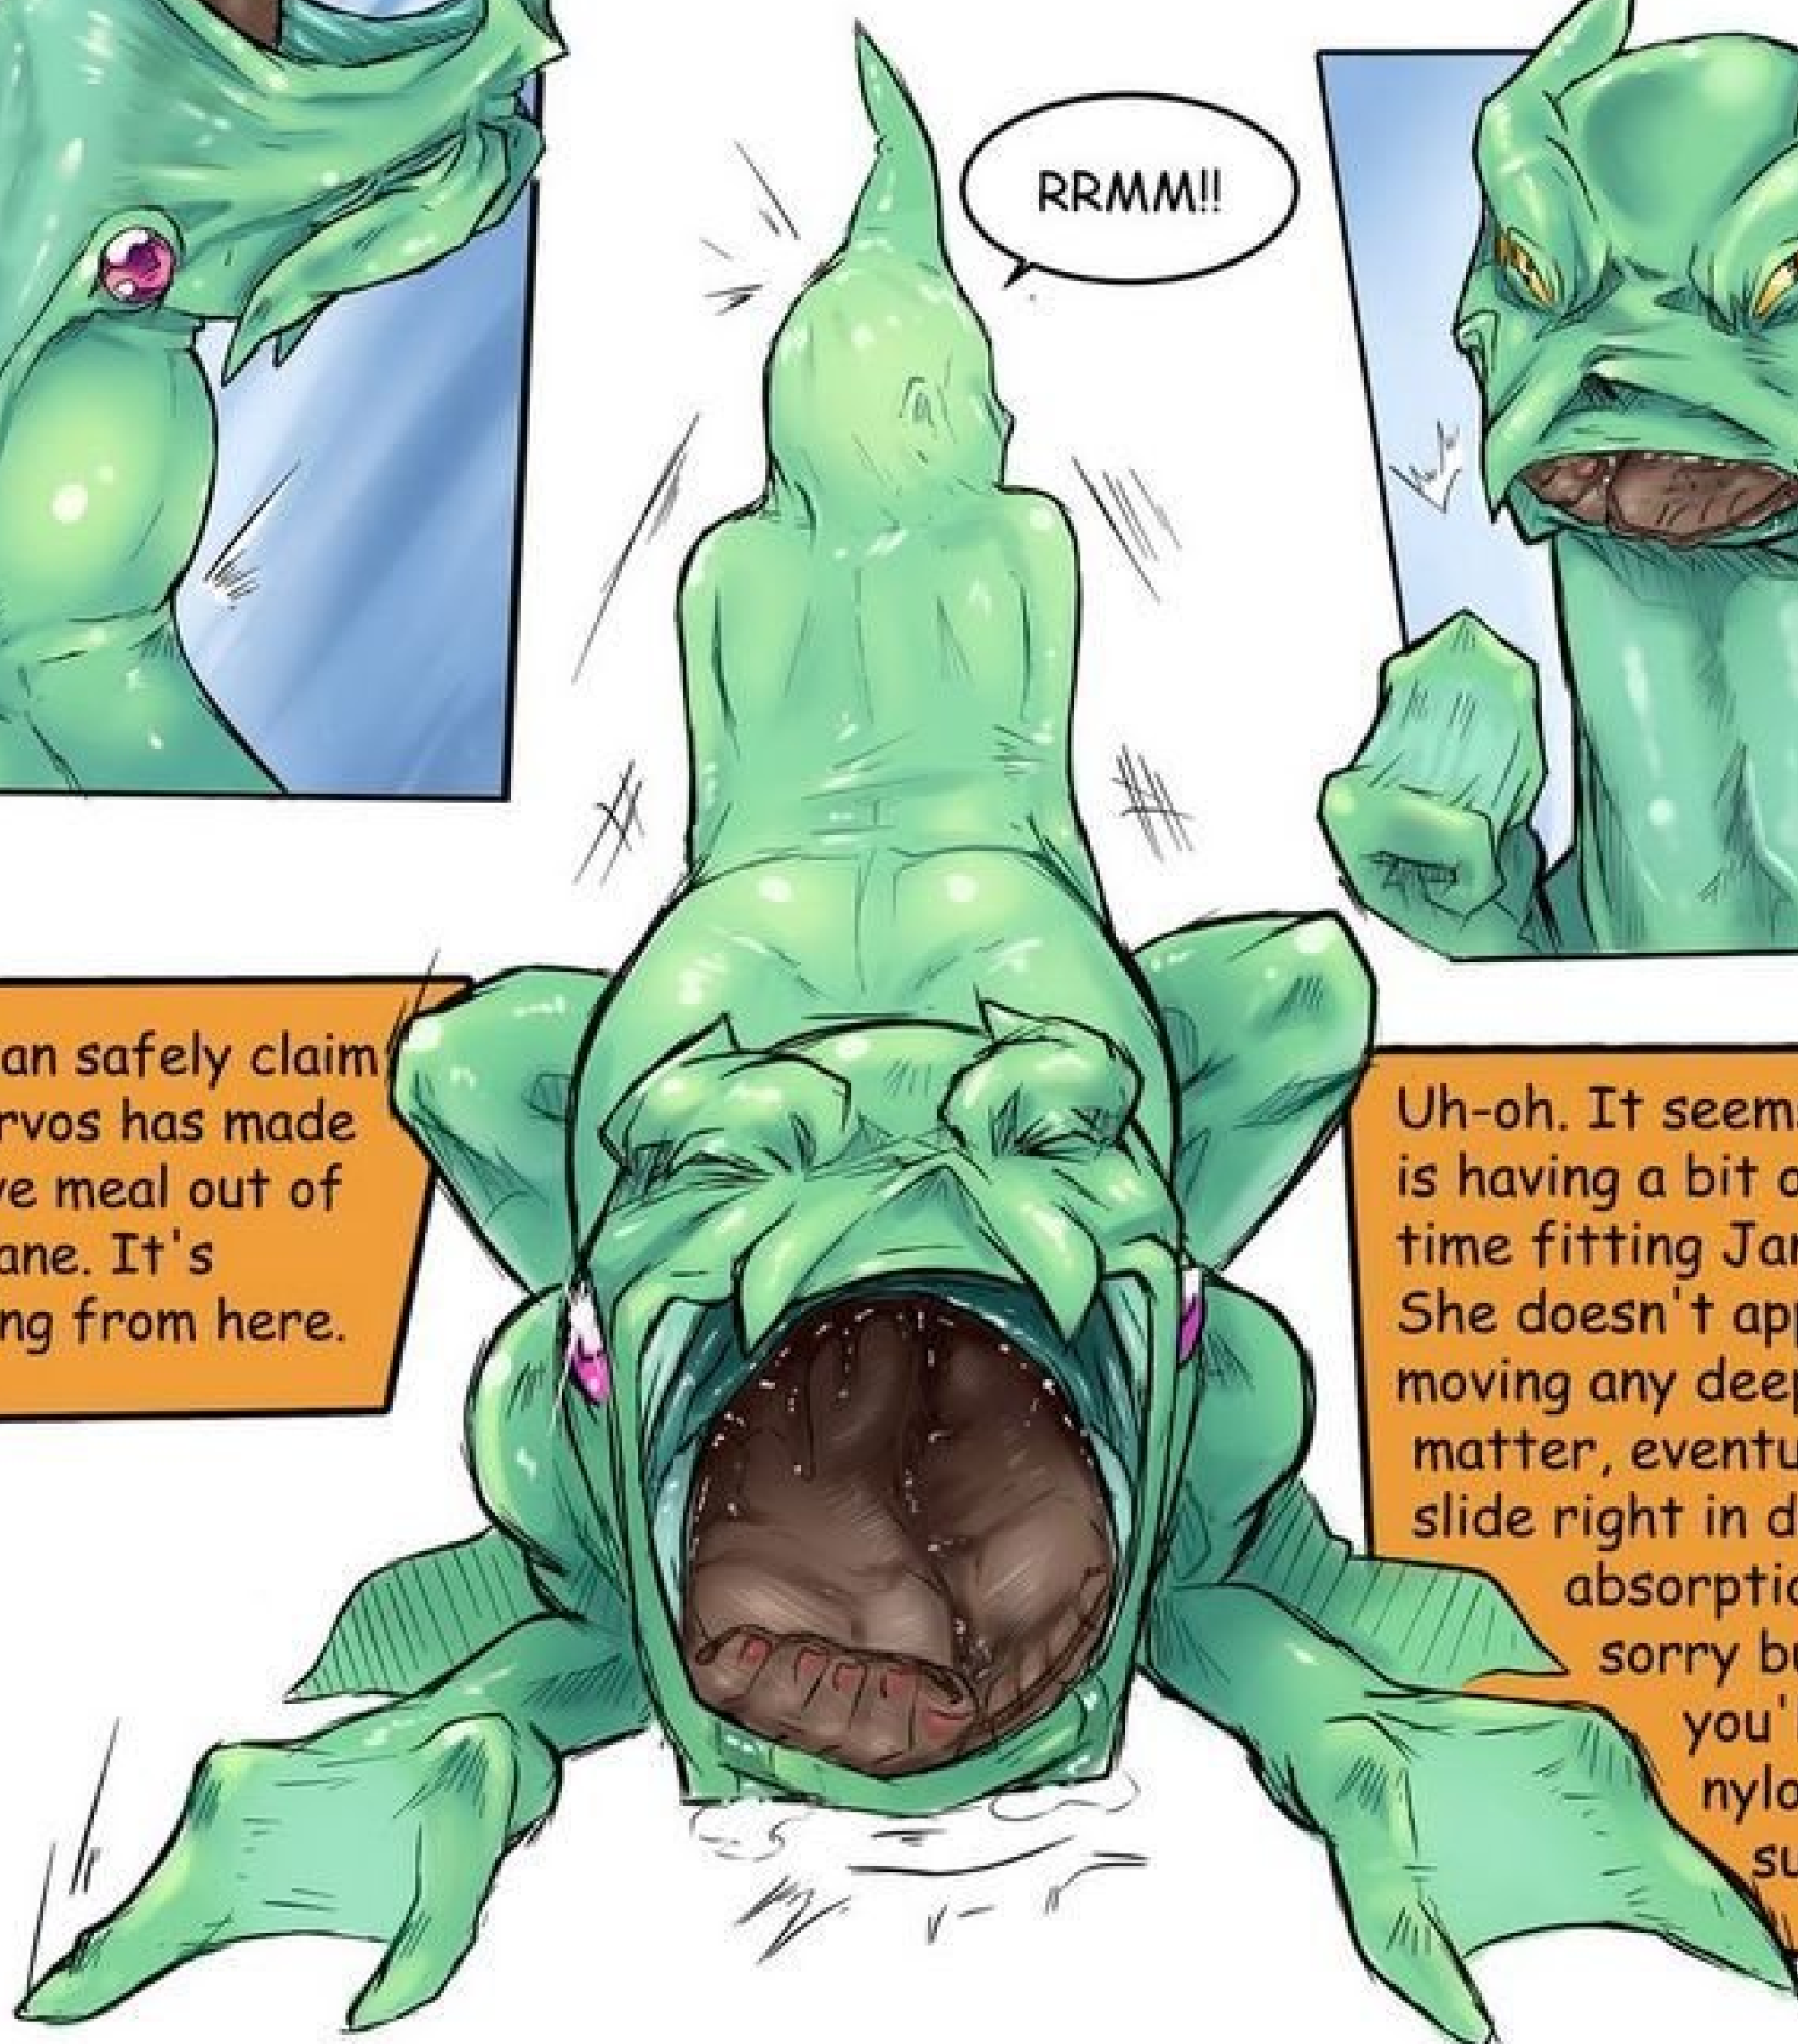

RRMM!!

I think we can safely claim that the Zarvos has made an impressive meal out of our lovely Jane. It's smooth sailing from here.

Uh-oh. It seems the Zarvos is having a bit of a hard time fitting Jane inside. She doesn't appear to be moving any deeper. No matter, eventually she'll slide right in during the absorption process. sorry bud. At least you'll have a nice nylon treat to suck on for awhile.

UURMMPHH!!
HUMMMPH!!

OH! Well, Excuse me! I spoke far too soon... There you have it. He managed to squeeze her right in. A full Zarvos is certainly a sight to behold. How exciting!
