

A hand-drawn comic panel. On the left, Dr. Eggman is shown from the chest up, looking towards the right with a smug expression. He has his signature spiked helmet and a large, round body. In the center, a large, circular, screaming mouth with sharp teeth is drawn with heavy, swirling lines, suggesting a powerful sound or a chaotic scene. On the right, Sonic the Hedgehog is standing, looking towards Eggman with a surprised expression. The background is simple, with a few horizontal lines suggesting a ground surface. The drawing style is sketchy and expressive, with a lot of cross-hatching and swirling lines.
